

FOCUS

DISTRACTIONS

PREFRONTAL CORTEX

- Captain or CEO of the brain
- Planning, decision-making, impulse control, regulating emotions, and maintaining focus
- Last one to develop
- It helps with the complex tasks
- Multitasking is a myth

PICTIONARY

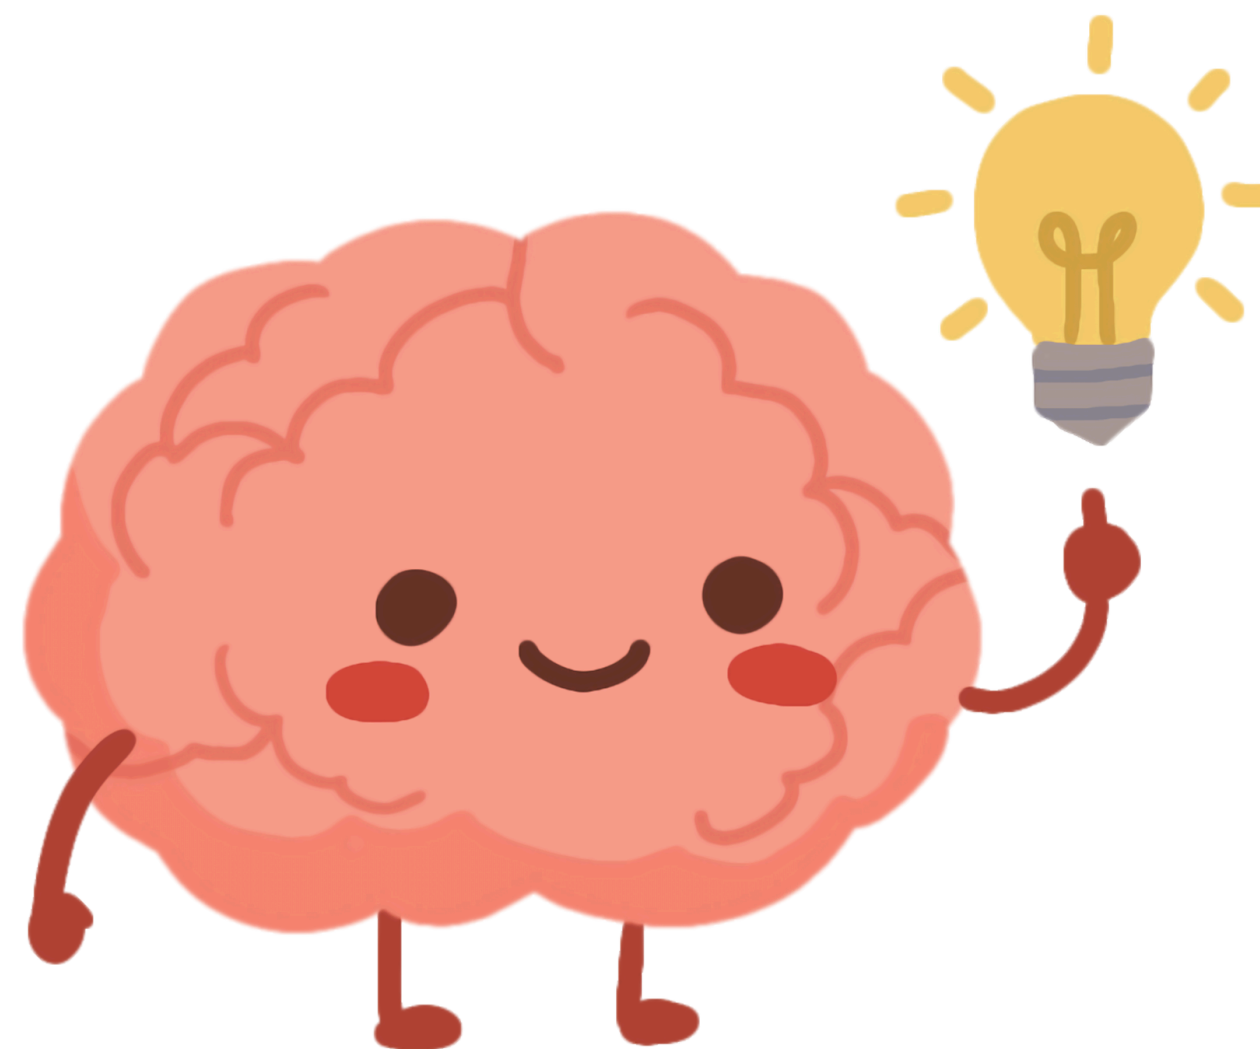

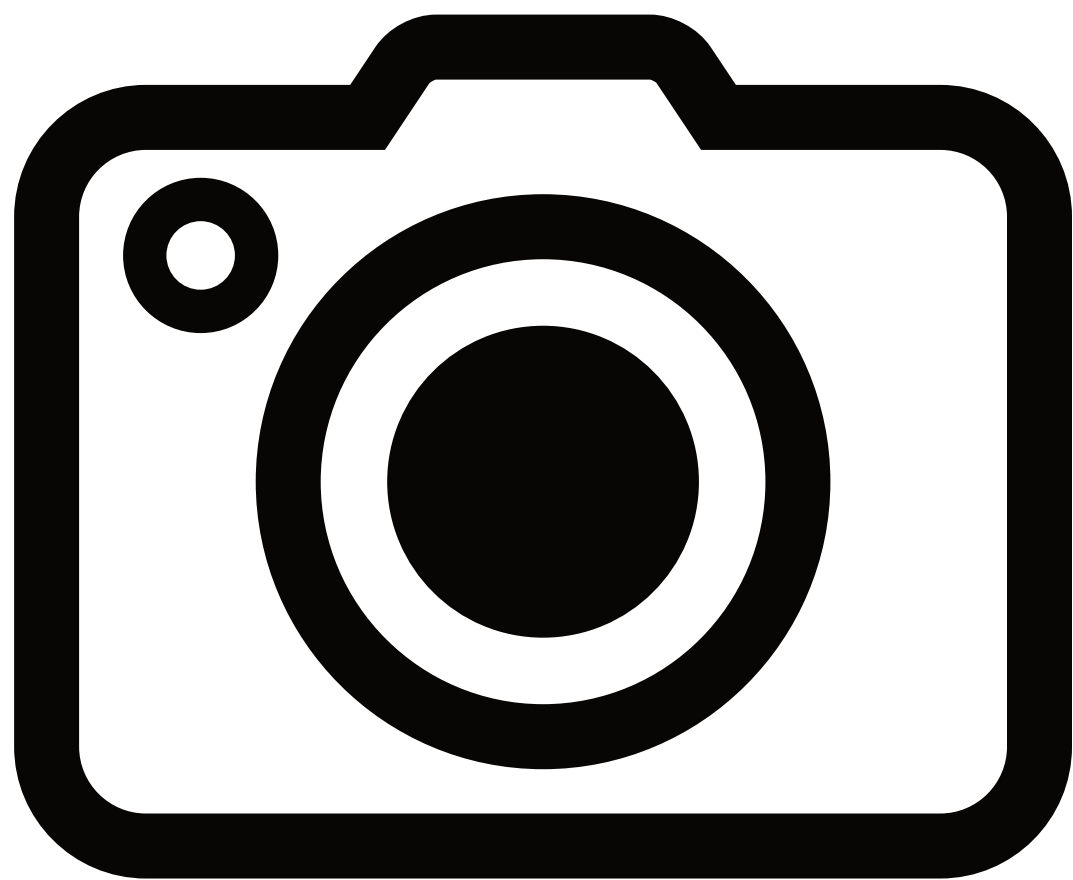

RULES: SPLIT INTO 2 TEAMS AND SEND ONE REPRESENTATIVE FROM EACH TEAM. THEY WILL BE YOUR DRAWER. WHILE THE PERSON IS DRAWING, PEOPLE FROM THE OTHER TEAM WILL TRY TO DISTRACT THEM. WE WILL PLAY FOR 5 MINS AND TAKE A PAUSE.

WAYS TO STAY FOCUSED

- Use your non dominant hand to write your name
- Balance on one foot and say the ABC's backwards
- 5-4-3-2-1 Focus Trick
- Write a word on the top of your paper
- Start doodling on a piece of paper
- Chew some gum or sour snack
- Meditate, take 3 deep breaths

NOW TRY AGAIN!

REFLECTION

- TAKE A POST IT NOTE AND PAPER
- WRITE ONE THING THAT DISTRACTS YOU
- THEN WRITE ONE WAY YOU WILL STAY
FOCUSED FROM NOW ON

THANK YOU!
